Rivals' Votes on Larger Fees

One of Senator Byrd's papers, the Harrisonburg News Record, quotes from a recent attack of Senator Mapp on the fee-system, and then proceeds to trace the amendments by which the West act was weakened. The culmination of these crippling changes in the law was a measure passed at the session of 1920, by which fees were increased and officers were extended in the manner previously set forth at length in these columns. "Senator Mapp," affirms the News Record," voted for the act of 1920, which provided for this increase and Senator Byrd voted against it. Senator Mapp is now complaining that the treasurers of this state are getting more money from their commissions on school taxes than is received by all the school superintendents of the state. If this is true, it is due to a law for which Senator Mapp voted when he was a member of the senate, and for which he must accept responsibility. Senator Mapp was a member of the senate of 1922 and 1923. He introduced no amendment to reduce these fees he voted to increase in 1920, yet as a candidate for governor he charges these fee compensations as being excessive."

That is a fair shot on a vote that may give Senator Mapp some trouble in the campaign. It remains to be seen whether fee-officers will vote for Senator Mapp, because he approved their increase, and against Senator Byrd, because he opposed it.—The Richmond News - Leader Thursday, April 23, 1925.

Anti-Machine Leader Comes Out For Byrd; Lauds His Bond Fight; Will Make State A Business Governor

R. Lindsay Gordon, Jr., of Louisa, former member of the Virginia General Assembly and one of the big leaders of the "anti-machine" faction in the state, has announced through the Richmond Times-Dispatch his intention to support State Senator Harry F. Byrd, for Governor.

When a member of the Legislature, Mr. Gordon was known as the "watchdog of the treasury". He led the fight to increase salaries and took a determined stand for economy and against any increase in state expenditures.

He declares in the absence of an "anti-machine" candidate he will "do all in his power to aid Senator Byrd on account of his fight against bonding this state to build roads." He also states that he regards Senator Byrd as "one of the best business men in the state", and if elected he "will give the state a business-like administration with due regard to thrift and economy." Mr. Gordon also praises Delegate Keesell's work against the bond issue.

Mr. Gordon's statement is as follows:

To the Editor of the Times Dispatch:

Sir,—Permit me through the peoples' column of your paper to express my hearty endorsation of Senator Harry Flood Byrd for nomination of Governor of Virginia, in the August primary. I had hoped that there would be an anti-machine candidate, but since there is not to be, I shall do all in my power to aid Senator Byrd's election on account of his fight against bonding this State to build roads. I believe it was due very largely to the publicity given to the question through the papers of Senator Byrd and Delegate Keesell that the bond issue was defeated at the polls, and I know that no one man in Virginia contributed as much to this result as Senator Byrd. I had hoped that the bond issue was dead, but I see from the press that it is only sleeping. The school children all over the State are debating the question as to whether the State should not be bonded for the erection of additional buildings and other improvements at the institutions of higher education of the State and I understand that the University of Virginia, or certainly its president is supporting this proposition. Then there will be another effort by the city of Norfolk and Newport News to bond this State to improve the port at Hampton Roads, and I, therefore anticipate a struggle in the next Legislature to bond the State for these purposes and also one to have short term bonds issued to build roads and while I do not know Senator Byrd's position, I feel sure that the man who made the fight against bonds as he did for roads will oppose them for any other purpose. In addition to this I am fond of him personally, and regard him as one of the best business men in the State, and believe that if elected, he will give the State a business-like administration with due regard for thrift and economy.

BILIOUSNESS

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form.

The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, past 80, lives at West Graham, Va., says: "For years I had been suffering with my liver. Sometimes the pain around the eyes would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief.

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headaches, caused from extreme biliousness.

"All of I found Black-Draught, I would try to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved them at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a torpid, lazy liver.

Sold everywhere.

Men and Money Make this Bank Secure.

THERE are two ways of measuring the strength and standing of a bank. In the first place money resources—capital and surplus—give it financial strength.

In the second place—and perhaps even more important—are men, the officers and directors. They give the bank character, determine and execute its policies.

This is a strong bank, a helpful bank because it has ample resources, and a personnel of proven character and ability.

VERA

Our million dollar rain came Sunday evening and many were the prayers of thanksgiving and praise offered to the Lord and giver of all good things, for his bountiful gift bestowed upon the just and unjust; now all nature is smiling. One can almost see the wheat and grass growing and the woods are a riot of blossom and tender green. This old imperfect world, even now so beautiful—one can but wonder what the perfect world will be, after the "Restitution of all things spoken by the mouths of all his holy prophets since the world began" Acts 3 19-21.

Announcement was received here last week of the marriage of Capt. Thomas Kenley Menefee to Miss Catherine Christine Bennington, bo th of Lynchburg, on Aprill 5th. Capt. Menefee is very well known in this neighborhood, having visited here quite frequently; he is an ex-soldier of the world war and is now captain of the 'Home Guard' in Lynchburg. His many friends here wish him and his bride a pleasant journey thru life with only enough of the bitter to make the sweet more sweet.

We are glad to note the improvement in the conditiou of Mrs. Walker Carnefix, who has been ill for almost a year.

Miss Neal Jones is wonderfully improved in health we are glad to say.

Miss Daisy Bell was a visitor to Lynchburg last week.

Mrs. Jerome Menefee went to Lynchburg Sunday to hear the lecture delivered by Mr. Stewart, whose subject was "The Time of Deliverance." She will visit friends while there for a week.

PAMPLIN

We are having quite a rainy season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Terry and children visited M. C. Jones near Spring Mills Sunday.

SPOUT SPRING

Mr. and Mrs. R H. Bates entertained a number of young people last Saturday evening in compliment of their daughter, Susie Ellen, whose birthday fell on that date. Many attractive favors were provided for the guests and games were played. Snowballs and rose buds furnished a decorative scheme of yellow and white, which was emphasized in the refreshments also.

Mesdames H. S. Jones, F. O. Jones and Miss Nell Bates assisted the hostess in serving.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Whitaker, Miss Eleanor Collins, William Bates, Eula Howerton, Thomas Bondurant, Lucy Chick, Robert Collins, Arline Cheatham, Davis Smith, Frances Smith, Bunk Rector, Virginia Chilton, Abner Howerton, Ora King, Lawrence Wheeler, Lena Bates, Thornhill Carter, Susie Bates, Carlton Bondurant, Sarah Bates, Jones Caldwell, Lucile Bates, Chapton Chilton, Nannie Jones, Malcolm Bondurant, Nannie Sue Chilton, Edward Bates, Catherine Caldwell, Frank Jones, Ruby Caldwell, Rufus W. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Harvey's week-end guests were Miss Tera Doss, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Baxendall, Charlie Dowel and Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Paulett.

Mrs. Dillard Baker is on sick list.

The senior play of our high school will be given at Masonic hall Friday night.

The P. T. Association met Thursday night. The program consisted of a play given by the seventh grade entitled "Sewing for the Heathen", which was enjoyed. Mr. O'Brien of Appomattox was a visitor at our meeting in interest of painting the school building.

Howard Wilson preached a fine sermon at Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Miss Alice Carter of S. T. C., visited Miss Elia Neal last week-end.

Down On The James

On the banks of the James river Easter Monday there were 86 people gathered in a picnic and fish fry. Cooked 50 fish or more and had one of the most enjoyable times ever had at "Old Mingo's". Did not catch any fish that day, Mr. Ned Moore had caught them a few days before. Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Graves and two children of Lynchburg, Mr. Burn and Mr. Dilon of Appomattox. The crowd broke up late in the evening saying they had one of the nicest times they ever had.

There was an entertainment given by the James river school last Friday night. The children did fine and everyone enjoyed it. The teacher Miss Irma Chenault, deserves much credit. The house was full though it was rainy. Refreshments were sold, but the entertainment was free. Hope it won't be long before they give another.

Mrs. W. F. Burge who has been visiting her daughters, Mesdames. T. D. Harris and Ned Moore, has returned to see her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Moore, who is looking better. Hope she will soon gain her strength.

Miss Elizabeth Moore and brother, Hal, have been on a visit to their aunts, Mesdames. Ned Moore and Edna Harris. We hope they will all make another visit down here soon.

Darlington Heights

Some farmers are complaining of the flies destroying their plantbeds. Much corn has been planted. There seems to be right many peaches, while some say the apple crop will be short.

We are sorry to say that Mr. Smith, pastor of Bethel and Douglas churches is not so well. His wife and children are at the home of F. L. Anderson, but expect to leave soon for a visit to friends and relatives in Richmond and N. C.

The home of J. M. Martin was destroyed by fire Friday a. m. The origin of the fire is not known, when discovered the roof was in light blaze. This was a large and beautiful building. There are 1000 acres in the tract and more than 1000 apple trees in bearing condition, besides many fruits of other kind. Mr. Martin plans to rebuild in the near future.

Mrs. E. B. Towler, who has been sick for sometime, is able to drive out a short distance and seems to be much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baker and sister, Mrs. Sam Thackston were guests of their brother W. A. Baker Sunday p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maloney are under congratulations—a fine boy. Mother and babe are getting on nicely.

Jim Baker and little daughter, Nellie Walker, have been sick, but are better.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Anderson were guests of H. H. Dobbins Sunday.

Miss Janie Martin of Farmville Normal, was week-end guest of Mrs. Sam Thackston.

Miss Josepnine Towler, teacher at Bethel, was at home for the week-end.

Oscar Towler had misfortune to lose a fine mule a few days ago.

Miss Mattie Bell and Mrs. Hansford Putney were recent visitors of friends at Five Forks.
